

Michael Ros
Co-Founder at Bidroom

Michael Ros started his first company when he was just 18 years old. He is a digital native, serial-entrepreneur, and self-professed optimist. Michael is the CEO and co-founder of Bidroom, the world's first membership-based travel community and booking platform. Bidroom is a manifestation of Michael's passions for technology, travel, and hospitality, and a result of years of pushing boundaries and striving for innovation. He has been a keynote speaker in more than 50 conferences globally, is a startup advisor, and a hospitality expert.
