

Ditti Bürgin-Brook
CEO / Producer, La Siala Entertainment GmbH

After working as a tinsmith and studying medicine Ditti Bürgin-Brook took on the public relations management of Karlheinz Böhm's relief organization in Africa, thus entering the media world. What followed were engagements as tour manager for Andru Donalds and DJ BoBo – with him Brook was also part of Michael Jackson's HiStory world tour. Various employments in the television and communication sector and professorships for both international culture management and film and media production were further steps on his path to his biggest success yet, the film adaptation of the Swiss children's book classic „Schellen Ursli“. The movie was directed by Oscar winner Xavier Koller and has broken all records and won innumerable prizes since its release in October 2015. Ditti Bürgin-Brook is currently cooperating with Sommerhaus Filmproduktion and Warner Bros. to adapt the novel „When Hitler Stole Pink Rabbit“ on screen. For this production, he is working together with Oscar-winning director Caroline Link.

Since 2011 Brook has been teaching both event and culture management and event technology and risk management at the MHMK university of applied science in Berlin and Munich. Furthermore is Ditti Bürgin-Brook teaching Filmproduktion at the Filmuniversität Babelsberg in Potsdam. Ditti Bürgin-Brook is a member of the European Film Academy and of „Virtual Reality Babelsberg“, an innovation forum hosted by the film university Potsdam and the federal government department of education and research.
