

Dr. Marianne Janik
CEO Microsoft Switzerland

Since July 2015 Marianne Janik has held the role of CEO heading Microsoft Switzerland. For around four years she was responsible for the public sector, education and healthcare as part of executive management at Microsoft Germany. In this central Microsoft business division she drove continuous growth and successfully supported her customers in their innovation and transformation processes. The French born Doctor of Law has years of sales and leadership experience in various businesses and sectors at her command.

Marianne Janik started her professional career at Daimler Benz Ltd in the Public Affairs division. Next, she took over the Contract Department of a subsidiary of EADS and following that, the sales department for public authority, army and industry customer transactions. Marianne Janik is married with two children.